- Increase your take home pay with not-for-profit Salary Packaging benefits
- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people are strongly encouraged to apply
- Based at our Youth Service in Midland

Indigo Junction is a not-for-profit organisation providing support to young people, families and individuals who are experiencing, or at risk of, homelessness.

We are seeking an experience and dedicated service manager to drive our youth team and empower young people through trauma-informed support towards more independent living.

The key objectives of this position are:

- To provide supported crisis and transitional accommodation and related support services for young people who have experienced a crisis resulting in homelessness.
- To ensure clients are safe and supported by increasing their knowledge and confidence to reduce the likelihood of future crises.
- To support young people towards more independent living by empowering them with life skills and assist in restoring family relationships where possible.
- To ensure client outcomes are optimised through the services participation in local coordinated interagency responses.

Essential qualifications/criteria:

You must have:

- A relevant tertiary qualification preferably in social work or youth work and at least 3 years appropriate experience; or demonstrated equivalent
- High level supervision, leadership and organisational skills with demonstrated experience as a manager in a similar service.
- Experience and demonstrated competence in working with young people in crisis.
- Cultural competency and experience working with young people from diverse backgrounds.
- High level communication, negotiation and advocacy skills.
- Computing skills in word processing, spreadsheets and databases.
